

Across

- 3 You want the ball to come to you when you catch, avoid (blank) at the ball?
- 5 In all forms of cricket what is Brendon McCullums mentality when it comes to captaincy?
- 6 You want this to be high at in your fielding sessions
- 7 In the slips it is very important you are (blank) when the ball is about to be bowled
- 9 The difference between a batsman being stumped and not?
- 13 When the ball goes down the legside, its important your head doesnt go to early so it can (blank) the balls path
- 14 Your legs shouldnt be too far (blank) when in a position to revieve a slip catch

Down

- 1 Sarah Taylor states after she has taken the ball down the legside she always wants to get into a habbit of the ball going back to the (blank)
- 2 Having a still head position will allow your eyes to be (blank) giving you the best chance to catch the ball
- 4 The relationship between these two body parts are exceptionally important when catching (4,3,5)
- 8 Sarah Taylor state this moves first when keeping to a right handed batsman and the ball is going down the legside
- 10 Your legs need to be (blank) to ensure you get into and can move into strong positions
- 11 The pundits state weight on the (blank) of your feet when slip catching as it allows you to move freely
- 12 Ian Healy states you musn't let the batsman (blank) you when you are standing up to the wicket